What is a Breathe Easy Campus?

A breathe easy zone is an area 20-25 feet from a building exterior designated as no smoking. In response to student, faculty and staff feedback, we are creating “breathe easy” zones around the A and B buildings. The three designated smoking areas have been established outside of the “breathe easy” zone surrounding the engineering campus’ main buildings.

Why Breathe Easy Zones?

According to a recent survey of students, faculty and staff, 76% of respondents support establishing designated smoking areas on campus. Fifty percent feel that smoking in public places is not okay and that smoking should be prohibited at all campus sponsored events. Many students have health problems and being exposed to second-hand smoke is very dangerous for them.
What Do I Need to Do?
Compliance with the new smoking policy depends on all members of the campus community, whether a person smokes or not, acting responsibly and collectively to abide by the new policy. This will ensure a healthy environment for working, studying and living.

How Can I Quit Smoking?
If you would like to quit smoking, help is available through your University’s health center and website:
